UNCLE SAM INTERESTED IN PINKER CHEEKS AND BRIGHTER EYES FOR ALL HIS WOMEN

Sounding the need of recreational camps where health-giving instruction and entertainment may be given in the building up of women who need conditioning more than medicine, Julius Kahn, Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, has introduced in the House a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to grant the use of land and camp equipment to the United States Training Corps for Women, which has done marvelous work in the physical uplift of war workers in Washington.

The bill is designed to promote and maintain the health of American womanhood and the camps are to be located in the west, in the northern central states, in the south, and in the east and all to be under proper medical and nursing supervision.

Every American woman and child will be given an opportunity to go to these camps and indulge in regular setting up exercises and semi-military training with correct posture and deep breathing, so essential in the promotion of mental and moral discipline, quickness of perception, accuracy of mental processes and clearness of thought.

The United States Training Corps for Women is the brain product of Susanna Cocroft, the Chicago Physical Culturist, but more recently the physical culture teacher of Uncle Sam's women war workers.

The organization is backed by President Wilson, members of the cabinet and other high government officials, both army and navy.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson will be the general medical director, keeping a close connection with each cantonment. In these cantonments the women and girls will be able, for a small sum, to spend not only a cheap and enjoyable vacation, but a vacation which will send them back to their work built up in health and with a new accuracy of mental processes and cleanliness of thought.

In one of the cantonments there will be a school to train teachers for this work.

It is expected Representative Kahn's bill will become a law before the hot summer months set in and that the women will be in training before the season is over.

Surgeon General Blue, of the United States Public Health Service, has also offered his services and will be in charge of the hygiene at the camps.

The United States Training Corps for Women is now located at 624 Michigan Boulevard Chicago, where applicants should be sent for membership in the corps.
